

Hello User Testers,

Thank you all so much for participating in the user tests for our app, Commit. Your feedback was incredibly helpful!

We noticed there were multiple problems that are fixable.

- The reaction emoji was not a positive emotion.
- The study timer was not intuitive what 00:00 stood for.
- The username on the Comms were clickable, but didn't go anywhere.

We also recognized some other problems, that unfortunately we will not have time to fix.

- The layout of the alarms was not uniform.
- The homepage Comms looked strange on android.
- Bedtime mode was unclear and didn't work as expected.

There were other comments as well that we have taken into consideration, but these were some of the most mentioned. Whether we are going to be able to fix your suggestions or not, thank you so much for your time! Your input has helped our app become better.

Thanks so much,

Ellie and the rest of Team E
